

Memorial for Bob Parent

A memorial stone for Robert Parent was set in place in front of the old town hall on Tuesday by Paul Mathson and Charlie Collins of Roessler & Sons of Woburn. The memorial, Wilmington's third of four for servicemen killed in Vietnam, will be dedicated on Sunday at 2 p.m.

Town meeting Monday night

The Wilmington Housing Authority (WHA) has its work cutout for itself in the special town meeting which starts at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Barrows Auditorium of Wilmington High School.

The WHA has had a promise of a state grant of $1.92 million, for elderly housing and for scattered site housing. Eight units of scattered site housing must be provided, as a part of the grand which will allow the WHA to also construct 32 units of elderly housing.

The circumstances are not the same as they were four years ago, but there are some similarities. There is some neighborhood opposition to the scattered site housing proposals.

The scattered site housing would be constructed on town-owned land under provisions of Chapter 705, Massachusetts General Laws. The state will provide a subsidy of up to $65,000 for each unit and the town is proposing to provide the rest if needed.

That additional money will probably be needed. The state wants to have duplex housing, two families in one building. This would be contrary to the zoning by-law. Although a comprehensive permit could override the zoning, it is to be believed that such a proposal would not get through the town meeting. Therefore the town is proposing single family residences.

Four of the sites are easterly of Glen Road, in the St Paul Street area, and near to King Street. There has been opposition voiced by some King Street area residents.

Six of the proposed sites are in the former Arrow estates, adjacent to the North Reading line. The "Lost Colony" is in that area, so named by the Town Crier many years ago. The area can only be reached by roads going through North Reading.

There are about four homes, off Old Andover Road and Virginia Road. The homes are served by water mains from North Reading. Those mains have been known to freeze in the winter and the Wilmington Sewer and Water Commission does not feel it is responsible for those mains, as they are a part of the North Reading system.

Residents from the Lost Colony expressed opposition to the proposal for scattered site housing in their area, in the Finance Committee public hearing.

Daniel Gillis of the WHA spoke up in the Finance Committee hearing for the scattered site housing.

Another key article for the WHA proposal is Article Three, which proposes a sewer on Cedar Street, connecting the existing and proposed housing on Deming Way with the town sewer. Town officials are trying to arrange for that sewer to be built without charging bet-

Cedar Street residents oppose sewer betterments

Cedar Street residents are not interested in contributing toward the cost of constructing a sewer from the Deming Way project to the interceptor sewer. Not one of the dozen persons who were present at a hearing on September 13 at the Butters Row water treatment plant offered to sign up to share the construction costs.

The proposed sewer is the subject of an article in the special town meeting to be held Monday night.

The Wilmington Housing Authority (WHA) seeks to construct a sewer from the WHA housing project, as a part of the proposed expansion of the project. The sewer would allow the WHA to use land now occupied by a septic system for the additional housing units.

Through the WHA the state will contribute $75,000, about half of the total cost of the sewer. Part of the state contribution will be for improvements to the sewer pumping system at the WHA and installation of a force sewer main, to a high point at the beginning of Cedar Street. From that point there would be a gravity sewer to the present sewer at Sweetheart Plastics.

The Wilmington Water and Sewer Commissioners, who did not make the original proposal, said that the costs were lower than they would be for similar projects because of the WHA contribution.

Costs for the homes varied from $1500 to $3500, payable if wanted over a 20 year period six percent interest. In addition there would be hookup costs, from the street to the homes, which would cost from $300 to $900 for individual homes.

John White, one of those present, told the commissioners that "We have another choice - to vote against it."

The special town meeting of September 24 will vote on the sewer proposal on September 24th.

James DeCarolis of Tewksbury who owns 56 acres of the former Roberts Estate, adjacent to the WHA property, was also present at the hearing. Mr. DeCarolis is interested in having a sewer constructed which will be larger than the proposed eight inch sewer.

DeCarolis is planning a housing development, and told the commissioners that he would pay the difference in costs, between an eight inch sewer and the sewer necessary to serve the area he hopes to develop.

WILMINGTON RESIDENTS

You are cordially invited to meet Paul T. Fleming, the new principal of Wilmington High School, on Thursday, September 20, 1984, from 4 to 6:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Gustus tops treasurer's ticket

Wilmington resident William Gustus appears to have won election as county treasurer, a job to which he was appointed last December.

As of 10 a.m. Wednesday, Gustus was holding a 2 to 1 margin over his nearest rival in the Democratic primary, Vincent LoPresti of Stoneham.

The race is a hard one to determine, since Middlesex County is one of the largest counties in the United States, with 11 cities and 43 towns.

In Wilmington, Gustus received 1534 votes. Second was Selectman Dan Ballou, with 1073. LoPresti had 69 votes in Wilmington.

With no Republican candidate for treasurer, Gustus' victory in the Democratic primary gives him the seat.

Beckwith wins nomination for Barrett's seat

Geoffrey Beckwith of Reading won the Democratic nomination for State Representative in the 21st Middlesex District. The district includes Reading, North Reading and Precinct 3 of Wilmington.

Beckwith had served as legislative aide to Rep. Michael Barrett and had been endorsed by Barrett.

He will face Republican David Leavitt of Reading in the November election. Leavitt was unopposed in the primary.

Voter registration in Tewksbury

Tewksbury Town Clerk Elizabeth Carey announced recently that there will be special voter registration sessions at town hall during the next few weeks. The sessions have been scheduled for Tuesday, September 25 from 7 to 8:30 p.m.; Saturday, September 29 from noon to 8 p.m.; and Tuesday, October 9 from 8:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. October 9 is the last day in which previously unregistered voters may register so as to be able to vote in the Presidential election November 6.

Registration will also be conducted during daily office hours, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the town clerk's office in town hall.

Those registering to vote for the first time should bring with them identification listing their age and permanent address.

Leslie Ann Coville is bride

Leslie Ann Coville, daughter of Vernon and Elizabeth Coville of Powder House Circle, Wilmington became the bride of David Alan Vachalek, son of Walter and Carole Vachalek of Milwaukee, Wisconsin on July 21.

The Rev. Bailey Whitbeck performed the early afternoon ceremony before the flower decked altar of Emmanuel Parish Church, Wakefield.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was radiant in a gown of chantilly lace with sea pearls, featuring a gathered waist and half sleeves. She wore a matching white hat and carried a bouquet of white orchids and red tea roses.

Karen Coville, of Wilmington, sister of the bride served as maid of honor in a dusty rose taffeta gown with ruffled off the shoulder neckline. She wore a matching hat and carried a bouquet of dusty rose orchids.

The bride's attendants were Andrea Lovasco of Gloucester, cousin of the bride; and Margaret Talbot of Gloucester, close friend of the bride.

They were attired in pink taffeta gowns styled like that worn by the maid of honor, with matching hats. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of pink orchids.

Roger Amato of Glade Spring, Virginia, served his friend as best man while ushering duties were in charge of Roger Coville of Wilmington and Steven Coville of California, brothers of the bride; and Roger Vachalek and Mark Vachalek of Milwaukee, brothers of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at Meadow Brook Golf Club, Reading where Patricia Cosman, the bride's Godmother circulated the guest book. She was attired in a dusty rose gown with a pink carnation corsage.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Coville chose a silver long sleeved gown and a pink orchid corsage.

The mother of the groom was attired in a long sleeved periwinkle gown with a pink orchid corsage.

For traveling the new Mrs. Vachalek chose a white cotton classic dress pleated at the waist with a white silk jacket.

The bride was a member of Rainbow Girls, Friendship Lodge of Wilmington and served that group as worthy advisor in 1972. A graduate of Lowell University, she is currently employed as a TWA flight attendant.

Her husband was educated at Brown University and is now employed as district group sales representative with Home Life Insurance Company.

Following a wedding trip to the Bahamas, the couple is now living in St. Louis.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to the school committee members who supported me in all my efforts to acquire a school bus for the kindergarten children of Wilmington.

A special thank you to Anthony Accardi and Bridget Zukas who kept in touch with me personally.

It is comforting to watch the little ones getting on and off the bus knowing that they will get to and from home safely.

Wilmington girls volunteered at Winchester Hospital

A total of 148 young people from eight area communities recently completed a summer of work as junior volunteers at Winchester Hospital. From late June through Labor Day, these young men and women ages 14 to 18 worked mornings, afternoons, evenings and weekends at the hospital, assisting both the hospital staff and the patients.

Junior volunteers travelled to the hospital from Wilmington, Stoneham, Melrose, Burlington, Reading, North Reading, Woburn and Winchester to help out with a variety of services. They waited on customers in the hospital Coffee Shop, served patients their morning coffee from the coffee cart, greeted patients in the office of the hospital Laboratory and at the Patient Registration Desk, made beds, transported patients from floor to floor, and delivered flowers and supplies throughout the hospital.

"The summer of 1984 was uniquely different from other summers for our junior volunteers, due to the hospital's ongoing building and renovation project," said Marie Johnson, director of Volunteer Services at the hospital. "There were almost daily adjustments to make, as departments moved and corridors closed one week and opened the next. But the junior volunteers responded with good humor and adaptability, and they performed their jobs extremely well."

The young people who volunteered at the hospital this past summer carried on a tradition that each year brings a large influx of junior volunteers to Winchester Hospital during June, July and August, when many of the adult volunteers take a vacation from their volunteer duties. Preparation for the junior volunteers' summer job assignments begins in February, when they are interviewed by Johnson and then attend several orientation sessions as well as on-the-job training throughout the spring months.

"The work these junior volunteers do for Winchester Hospital is an invaluable service to the hospital," said Johnson. "And the experience is also an opportunity for each young man and woman to gain job training and experience while learning the importance of dependability and cooperation."

"They are enthusiastic and conscientious, and they are a welcome addition to our hospital family each summer."

during the past summer were: Marlene Brodie, Julie Cassidy, Winifred Corsaro, Karen DeNinno, Laura Duden, Christina Dunn, Mary Espinola, Dorothy Hachey, Tracy Har-

Two state cruisers hit in stolen car chase

A North Reading man was arrested by state police shortly after midnight Thursday on Route 62 after a high speed chase. Daniel R. Pelletier, 20 of 9 Hawthorne Terr. was charged with multiple offenses after he allegedly ran two state troopers off the road with a stolen car.

Troopers Joseph Lawless and Gabriel Berson were injured and their cruisers were heavily damaged in an accident near the Regional Health Center. Both troopers were treated and released at that facility.

The chase began on Route 125 in Andover, when troopers Walter Keenan and Michael Fiore spotted a car stolen in Andover. They chased Pelletier along 125, around the Route 28 cloverleaf, back onto Route 125 and then into Wilmington, at speeds of 80 to 90 m.p.h. The chase then proceeded down Andover and Woburn streets, turning left onto Route 62. Two state cruisers, approaching from the opposite direction, were run off the road. Pelletier continued on, eventually crashing into a tree near the Cronin gravel pit. After the accident, he allegedly tried to fight off two state troopers.

After his arrest, Pelletier was taken to Lawrence General Hospital, where he was treated for injuries, and released to the state police. He was charged with driving under the influence, driving to endanger, failure to stop for a police officer, driving after the revocation of his license, two counts of assault with a dangerous weapon (car), two counts of assault and battery with a dangerous weapon (shod foot), leaving the scene of an accident after causing personal injury, using a motor vehicle without authority after revocation of his license, and possession of burglarious tools.

He was arraigned in Woburn District Court on Friday, and his case was continued until Oct. 16.

Proposed changes to massage rules tabled

Proposed changes in Tewksbury's rules and regulations governing the massage service industry were discussed Monday, September 10 by the board of health with no final action taken.

Anthony Cappucci, well known Tewksbury hair dresser who wishes to start offering therapeutic massage services at his place of business, was present for the discussion.

Mr. Cappucci has been attempting to begin offering the therapeutic massage service for some months. The health board issued a license to one of his employees, Cheryl Houde of Dracut, but has proposed changes in the rules and regulations that will affect that license in 1985.

The health board, fully sympathetic to Cappucci's aims, has been wrestling with the proposed revisions to their regulations. Each of the three board members proposed changes to the present regulations. Each of the three also agreed the best program would be to allow the public health director to write up such changes.

However, no final action was taken on the proposed changes and the health board will continue to discuss the matter at future meetings.

The board also discussed the proposed installation of a septic system for four homes being constructed on Overlook Drive by Fred Baldwin.

An $8,000 escrow account is being set up, to be owned by the home owners. That account will ensure that the system will be kept in good condition. Plans and agreements will be submitted to the board of health at a future meeting.

The health board meets again on Monday, September 24 at 8 p.m. in the town hall.

Tewksbury licenses 25 sewer drain layers

Some 25 contractors received approval Thursday, September 6 from the Tewksbury Board of Public Works to become drain layers.

The drain layers will be the only official contractors able to connect private sewer systems to the newly constructed public sewer.

Residents who are able to hook into the town sewer and who wish to do so must contract with one of the approved drain layers. The resident will be responsible for paying the costs associated with the connection.

There has been no date set for when hook ups may start, but the board has approved a set of rules and regulations that must be in place before the hook ups can start.

Following is a list of the drain layers approved by the board and the town in which they are based:

Play in Reading

Andrea Berman of Thurston Avenue, Wilmington (center) plays the part of Mona in "Come Back to the Five and Dime, Jimmy Dean, Jimmy Dean" by Ed Graczyk to be presented for the next three weekends in Reading by the Quannapowitt Players. Jay Martin (left) of Saugus plays Joe Qualley, a boy in 1955 who bucks the tide in a small Texas town, along with Wendy Diamond (right) of Reading plays the part of Sissy.

Performances begin with a free preview for seniors on Sept. 20. Regular performances will be held at 8:15 p.m. on September 21, 22, 28, 29 and 30 and Oct. 1, 5 and 6. Tickets may be obtained by calling the Quannapowitt Players, 55 Hopkins St., Reading 944-1919.

School shorts

Shawsheen School

Parents visited their children's classrooms, sampled donated baked goods, and took a chance on a turkey at the Shawsheen School open house and bake sale last Thursday, Sept. 13. The bake sale and raffle netted a profit of $175, with Barbara Reichel winning the 20 pound turkey.

Several PAC members will be wielding paint brushes in the days ahead as they create hopscotch and other sidewalk games on the Shawsheen School parking lot for use by students during recess. Paint and brushes were provided by the town.

West Intermediate
Save those cans and bottles!

Eighth graders at the West Intermediate School are collecting bottles for deposit to help pay for their class trip to Pennsylvania in May. This will be an ongoing fundraiser, so anyone with used tonic cans or bottles may contact the school or Mrs. Rosemary Murray at 657-3852.

North Intermediate
Parents will be going "back to school," according to Principal Dr. Joseph Connelly, as they follow their children's schedule at the North Intermediate's open house on Sept. 25 from 7-9 p.m. This year, with the help of English teacher Miss Thuline and Mr. Cliff Wheeler, a format using a modified bell schedule has been worked out.

Sunburst reading program

September 10 to 14 was Sunburst Reading Week in all of Wilmington's elementary schools. Many children have been involved all summer in the Sunburst Summer Reading Program at Wilmington Memorial Library. This program was run jointly by the library under the supervision of Children's Librarian Mrs. Sarah Reuter and by the Reading Department of the Wilmington Public Schools.

To complete this summer reading experience the Reading Department under the direction of Brenda Squire, director of reading K-12 language arts K-6, designated this Sunburst

Reading week for everyone and planned special writing activities.

Each child at the elementary level received an activity booklet in his - her classroom and activities were completed daily. The Art and Music Departments also coordinated appropriate Sunburst activities for the elementary students.

The school lunch program also cooperated by providing a special Sunburst desert in the elementary school cafeterias on Wednesday, September 12.

Circulation of books at the memorial library this summer was record setting.

Three car crash

A Salem man was injured in a three-car accident on Ballardvale Street shortly after 7 a.m. Saturday. Joseph Femino of 11 Hathorne St. Salem reported injuries after his car collided with cars driven by James Dunnett of 815 Woburn St., Wilmington and Joseph Jones of 75 Granite St., Quincy. According to police, the accident occurred when Dunnett's car slid on wet pavement. (David Fitzgerald photo)

Problems resolved with fifth grade class

Problems of the fifth grade class at the Wildwood School were finally resolved at a special meeting of about 30 parents, school officials, and school board members held on Thursday, Sept. 13. Those in attendance agreed to a plan scheduling special needs and other activities and remedial help in the afternoon, leaving the morning free for classroom teaching, with no interruptions.

It is hoped this solution will help alleviate the "attitude" problem this class has had since second grade and will allow a maximum of learning to take place.

Special needs group holds open house

The Wilmington Special Needs Advisory Council (SNAC) has announced an open house to be held Monday, Oct. 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the 4th of July Headquarters opposite Wilmington common on Middlesex Avenue. The purpose of this open house is to acquaint parents of handicapped (special needs) children with the SNAC group and the services and support that SNAC can provide them. All parents of handicapped children as well as people interested in the welfare of Wilmington's handicapped children are invited to attend.

Wilmington's SNAC is a parent organization that meets monthly during the school year. Its purpose is to look after the interests of handicapped (special needs) children of Wilmington as well as provide information and support services for the parents of these children.

SNAC has two fund raisers each year, an October dance and a pancake breakfast in March, which has allowed the group to provide the following during past years:

Scholarships for special needs students, a parent support group for the SNAC parents, funding for equipment and transportation for Rec. Dept. summer program for special needs children at Camp 40 Acres, funding for special needs classes, field trips and equipment needs not budgeted for in the school budget, partial funding for an audio trainer for a hearing impaired student in the Wilmington School System, funding for the camping coalition which provides camping services for the various types of handicapped children, funding for a sign language interpreter for a hearing impaired child at the tiny tot camp, and donations for other charitable causes.

Wilmington SNAC meets regularly with the Wilmington Public Schools Special Education Director and with various members of the school committee. The Wilmington Recreation Department and SNAC work closely on programs for the special needs children of Wilmington.

Open house at Tewksbury Junior High

The school year has begun. Books have been opened. Computers have been turned on. Learning, in a formal sense, has begun again.

Tewksbury Junior High School will feature a "back to school" open house Thursday, Oct. 4. All staff will be present. Programs and course offerings

Saunders' lecture on cable TV Thursday

Those who missed Landon Saunders' lecture "Tears and Laughter - Looking Back, Looking Forward" last Tuesday will be able to view a videotape of the entire evening on Thursday, September 20 at 7:30 p.m. The program will be aired on Tewksbury Cable Channel 43.

The Church of Christ featured Landon Saunders last Tuesday evening at the High School in honor of Tewksbury's 250th Anniversary. Saunders is a noted lecturer and creator of the seminar "Feeling Good About Yourself."

Landon Saunders will also be featured in a series of six films called "The Heart of the will be detailed. Homework and grading procedures will be explained.

Each parent will follow their child's schedule for seven simulated periods for Thursday so that a little bit of the daily atmosphere can be absorbed that evening - October 4 from 7 to 9. The program begins with a Fighter" to be shown on six consecutive Wednesday evenings at the High School. The films deal with basic issues of living with the simple challenge, "Never Give Up!" The film titles are: Sept. 26, "Heart Embracing;" Oct. 3, "Heart Overflowing;" Oct. 10, "Heart Surviving;" Oct. 17, "Heart Warming;" Oct. 24, "Heart Daring;" Oct. 31, "Heart Prizing." Time for each film is 7:30 p.m.

For more information about the films, call 851-7101. An optional discussion group follows each film. There is no charge to participate.

brief introductory presentation in the auditorium. Hopefully, many parents will take advantage of this opportunity.

The initial meeting of the Junior High School Parents Group has been set for Thursday, Sept. 20 at 7 p.m. Members of this group participate in many essential school sub-committee programs from time to time, such as basic skills advisory committee, code of conduct committee, middle school study committee, etc. All parents are invited to these informal discussion sessions. Raising funds is not a priority. Reflecting on school programs and problems is emphasized. Such parental feedback has proven most valuable to the administration.

All parents of students at the Junior High School, including parents of IGE students, are invited to participate with questions and comments on Thursday, Sept. 20 in the Junior High School library at 7 p.m. Those unable to attend the initial meeting are asked to keep October 18 in mind for the next meeting date.

Christopher DiCecca

Christopher S. DiCecca of Anthony Avenue, Wilmington died suddenly at the Regional Health Center, Wilmington Saturday. He was 59.

Mr. DiCecca was born in Somerville the son of Anna (DiFraia) and Raymond DiCecca of Arlington. He spent his youth in Somerville, lived in Arlington for many years and took up residence in Wilmington 20 years ago.

He served in the U.S. Army Air Force as a sergeant during World War II and held membership in the Angelo Guisepp Roncalli Lodge 2183 Sons Italy of Wilmington. He served as Past Venerable of the Lodge and Grand Deputy to the Lawrence Lodge Sons of Italy.

Prior to retirement he was employed as a meat packer for the New England Provision Company, Boston.

Mr. DiCecca is survived by his wife, Mrs. Beverly J. (Cram) DiCecca; his two sons, Raymond W. of Lawrence and Christopher A. of Wilmington; his parents, five sisters, Mrs. Betty Santos, Mrs. Mary Piacitelli, Mrs. Josephine Russo, Mrs. Gloria Gera of Arlington and Mrs. Tina Mitrano of Wilmington; two brothers, John DiCecca of Somerville and Cosmo DiCecca of Arlington. Three grandchildren also survive.

The funeral was held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, Wednesday morning followed by a funeral mass at St. Thomas Church. Burial took place in the family lot, Wildwood Cemetery.

Albert Tkachuk

Albert Tkachuk of Pond Street, Wilmington died at Lahey Clinic Medical Center, Burlington Thursday, Sept. 13 after a lengthy illness.

Sixty-three years of age at the time of his death, he was born in Woburn, the son of the late Helen (Sekolowski) and the late John Tkachuk. He lived in Charlestown for many years prior to moving to Wilmington 17 years ago.

Mr. Tkachuk was employed as a pipe fitter for Monsanto Chemical Co., Everett prior to retirement and held membership in the Tewksbury - Wilmington Lodge of Elks and the Cronin Club, Charlestown.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth A. (Robbins) Tkachuk, his daughter, Mrs. Eileen Callahan of Malden; his three sons, Alan R. of Illinois, Joseph and Michael of Wilmington; his two brothers, Walter of Groveland and Peter of Charlestown. Three grandchildren also survive.

The funeral was held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home Saturday morning followed by a funeral mass at St. Dorothy's Church. Interment took place in Wildwood Cemetery.

Arthur Kinsman

Arthur F. Kinsman, the owner of the Wilmington Telephone Exchange over half a century ago, and a resident of 9 Jay St., Tewksbury, died at St. John's Hospital September 12.

Eighty-eight years old, he was born in Salem, the son of the late Lillian (Mitchell) and the late Elia T. Kinsman. He lived in Wilmington for over 20 years in a site that is close to the present post office, where his family operated the telephone exchange, back when manual switchboards were the latest innovation of the New England Telephone Company. He moved to Malden about 40 years ago and then to Tewksbury about 30 years ago.

Prior to his retirement he was employed for many years by the Boston & Maine Railroad and was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen of America, Local 315.

He was the widower of Gertrude (Reddy) Kinsman, the father of Mrs. Marjorie Hogan of Tewksbury; Arthur Kinsman, Jr. of Chester, New Hampshire; Mrs. Arlene Dratwick of Virginia Beach, Virginia; and the late Mrs. Barbara Porcaro of Melrose. He is also survived by 16 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home on Saturday with the Rev. Lawrence O'Brien of the United Methodist Church, Wilmington officiating. Burial took place in the family lot, Wildwood Cemetery.

Serving as pall bearers for Mr. Kinsman were John Hogan, Arthur Hogan, Warren Gray, Robert Coolidge, Richard Andre and Joseph Porcaro.

Extension of Tewksbury sewer for Casa Grande

An extension of the Tewksbury sewer to the Casa Grande Long Term Care Facility was recommended to the Tewksbury Board of Public Works by DPW Superintendent Phil Pattison. The proposal was discussed by selectmen, acting as the board of public works, on Thursday, September 6.

A pumping station will be necessary, Pattison said, to connect Casa Grande to the proposed Pleasant Street lateral. The Pleasant Street project, being funded by private developers at no cost to the town, is now slated to enter construction phases by mid-November.

Pattison told the selectmen that once the Pleasant Street lateral has been constructed, several areas can be serviced by sewer extensions. A gravity sewer he said, could be installed for homes on Dewey Street and the police station. Carnation Drive could also be supplied, by a separate system.

If a pumping station for Casa Grande is installed before next summer it should be possible, he said, to connect Nelson Street and Newton Avenue by gravity sewer.

Sometime in the future, a sewer lateral may be laid to Long Pond, Pattison said. That could be anywhere from five to 15 years in the future. If such a lateral is laid, the levels would be such that the pumping station would not be needed, and Nelson and Newton Avenues would be connected to the system by gravity flow.

Talking with the Tewksbury Board of Health on Monday, September 10, officials of the Casa Grande home for the elderly agreed that a pumping station will be constructed to connect that institution with the sewer. The estimated cost was $150,000.

The Casa Grande has been experiencing some problems with their current septic system and have been discussing possible solutions to that problem with the board of the health.

On another sewer related matter, a sewer system for Westland Drive was included as part of an overall proposal to construct sewer laterals. The proposal has been outlined on an application for funds under a state grant program filed in December 1983, Pattison told the selectmen. The town meeting, however, will have to vote to approve of the overall proposal before the program starts. Every month in which there is a delay in voting the proposal at town meeting, Pattison says, that some other community will step ahead of Tewksbury on the state eligible grant list.

On motion of Selectman Charles Coldwell, the board voted that the Westland Drive sewer be one of the articles to be on the warrant for the next special town meeting.

Welcome Wagon bridal party

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 25, Welcome Wagon will hold its fall bridal party for all engaged women in the area. It will be held at the Speare House on Pawtucket Blvd. in Lowell beginning at 7:00 p.m.

The bridal fashion show will include the latest wedding gowns, bridesmaid, and mother of the bride gowns featured at House of Gowns in Billerica. Fashions for various seasons will be shown.

Formal wear for the groom and groomsmen will be modeled and commented on by Mr. Tux of Lawrence.

Music for the evening will be provided by Friends of the Family.

Several wedding oriented businesses will be on hand to answer questions and offer the latest information and ideas on wedding planning. Gifts and gift certificates from participating sponsors will be given to each bride in attendance.

A variety of door prizes will be given as well as complimentary corsages for each registered girl from Mahoney's Too of Tewksbury. Refreshments will be served following the fashion show.

There is no charge for the evening, but seating is limited so those interested are advised to make reservations early. Call Sandy at 658-8216 for the Speare House.

LWV membership night

The League of Women Voters (LWV) of Wilmington has invited area residents to its September membership social, Wednesday, Sept. 26 from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Silver Lake home of member Norma Mosely.

This meeting brings together League members ready to start a new year and people who would like to learn more about this issue oriented, non partisan organization.

The LWV is a non-partisan organization with membership open to all persons 18 years of age and older who are interested in being informed and active participants in the functioning of local, state and federal government.

This year the Wilmington League has already been busy with service to voters by co-sponsoring a regional forum for the candidates of the 7th Congressional District.

Locally activities are planned in conjunction with the Ipswich River Watershed Association for Coast Week 84. League observers will also continue to monitor town committee meetings.

Other activities will include a National Security study, a Financing Federal Government study, a State Administration of Justice study and a State Educational Action Biennium.

The Wilmington League encourages people to join in September so that they have time to choose a study or other activity from its beginning; or just to get a sense of all the available activities for future involvement.

For more information about the Wilmington League of Women Voters, including the membership social on the 26th, please call Membership Co-chair Patricia Rodan at 657-7117.

WHS controls line of scrimmage

Wildcats maul Greater Lawrence, 27-8

by Rick Cooke
Sports Editor

"The only thing that you worry about is that its a new coach and a first game." Wilmington High School football coach Ed Harrison needn't have worried, and he probably didn't lose much sleep going over a game plan for Sunday's Merrimack Valley Conference opener with the Greater Lawrence Reggies.

The Wildcats, with most of their 1983 offensive line returning intact along with an outstanding wide receiver and a running back, ran over, around and through Greater Lawrence for a 27-8 rout at the WHS gridiron.

Wilmington's front, led by cat-quick guards Peter Campbell and David Richards, simply chopped up the Reggies, opening gaps for standout back Tony Cutone (153 yards) along with running mates Mike Ingersoll, Dante DeMarco and later John McLaughlin.

The Wildcats put up 21 points in the first half and fortunately, found plenty of playing time for the junior varsity for the remainder of the contest. Greater Lawrence cancelled Monday's junior varsity tilt because they needed the players for practice.

Wilmington came out fast in the first quarter, capping a steady march with a one yard Cutone plunge for the touchdown. That standout receiver-kicker Brian Moon booted the first of his three conversions for a 7-0 WHS advantage.

Moon got Wilmington on the board again, this time in the second quarter when senior quarterback Bill Woods (6-12, 112 yards) connected with his senior receiver for a 17 yard TD in the corner of the endzone. Moon enjoyed a brilliant game, catching five passes for 107 yards.

Senior running back Dante DeMarco put the third WHS score on the board later in the quarter with a three yard banger over the middle.

The stingy Wilmington defense held the GL offense in check throughout the contest to totally spoil the debut of former Methuen coach Bob Rosmarino at the Reggies' helm.

That defense put six points on the board in the final quarter when Ingersoll intercepted a Greater Lawrence aerial and returned the theft 15 yards for a touchdown.

The junior varsity then went to work fulltime with the score 27-0 Wilmington.

Lou Gleason banged in from one yard out for the lone GL score that was followed by Ricky Colon's two point conversion run.

Saturday the Wildcats test the Lawrence Stadium wind tunnel when they battle the Lancers in a 1:30 p.m. start.

Redmen, Wildcats play darkhorse roles

by Rick Cooke
Sports Editor

Both teams have been here before. Lack of size. Lack of depth. Both clubs play in one of the most (if not The Most) competitive high school football conferences in the state. Both squads have inexperienced people playing at various key positions.

Yet, in the face of all the minuses, both the Tewksbury Redmen and Wilmington Wildcats could be very competitive in the Merrimack Valley Football Conference.

Competitiveness combined with a high degree of parity are MVC constants. Defending champ Dracut, Wilmington, Tewksbury, Chelmsford, Methuen, Andover and Lawrence have all copped conference crowns over the past decade. It is very tough for an MVC school to crack a Division II Super Bowl, since it is virtually unheard of for an MVC team to finish a season unbeaten and untied.

Although Chelmsford and Methuen are the legitimate favorites heading into week number two of 1984, nothing is a given in this conference. A scramble for the top five positions is the only sure bet.

Tewksbury Redmen (3-6-1)
Coach Bob Aylward is coming off just his second losing season at the TMHS helm, but that experience may prove to be invaluable to this young team.

The Redmen will need to fill some holes up front and find people to catch the bullets fired by junior quarterback Rob Aylward (5-11, 165). Aylward, along with sophomore running back Kenn Coviello (5-7, 160) and kicker Jim Evangelista should be Tewksbury's prime weapons. Coviello came on strong in the final four games a year ago, while Evangelista toed 11 conversions and a fieldgoal.

Much is expected of the Dick twins, Barry (6-2, 190) and Brian (6-2, 190). Other Redmen players to watch are senior receiver Mike Irvine (5-9, 160), junior defensive back Joe Vecchi, junior end Shawn Blades (6-0, 180), senior offensive lineman Tim Monahan (6-0, 205), junior lineman Jim Larsen (6-1, 185), linebacker Bud MacAllister (5-10, 175) and sophomore defensive back Tim Boudreau.

Aylward, as always, will place heavy emphasis on team attitude and a multiple offense that will swing to the pass whenever Coviello isn't in high gear.

Saturday in the team's 7-6 victory over Lawrence, the passing game sputtered. Whenever that happens, the Redmen are in for big trouble.

Tewksbury scrimmaged Haverhill, Malden, Austin Prep and Gloucester prior to the MVC opener with Lawrence Sunday.

The key TMHS graduates include tackle Tom Ogden, receiver Steve Gale and linebackers Tom Nawn and Buddy Farley.

Wilmington Wildcats (5-5-5)
Coach Ed Harrison's Cats will be very tough up front with the return of linemen Ken DeYoung (senior tackle, 5-11, 190), Dave Richards (senior guard 5-10, 157), Peter Campbell (junior guard, 5-6, 164) and Dave MacDonald (junior tackle, 5-11, 210).

The offense is also bolstered by the return of senior placekicker-receiver Brian Moon (6-0, 175) and junior running back Tony Cutone (5-10, 185). Moon was perfect on conversion attempts in 1983, is easily the top kicker in the conference and is developing into an all-star receiver. Cutone is simply among the top five backs in the MVC.

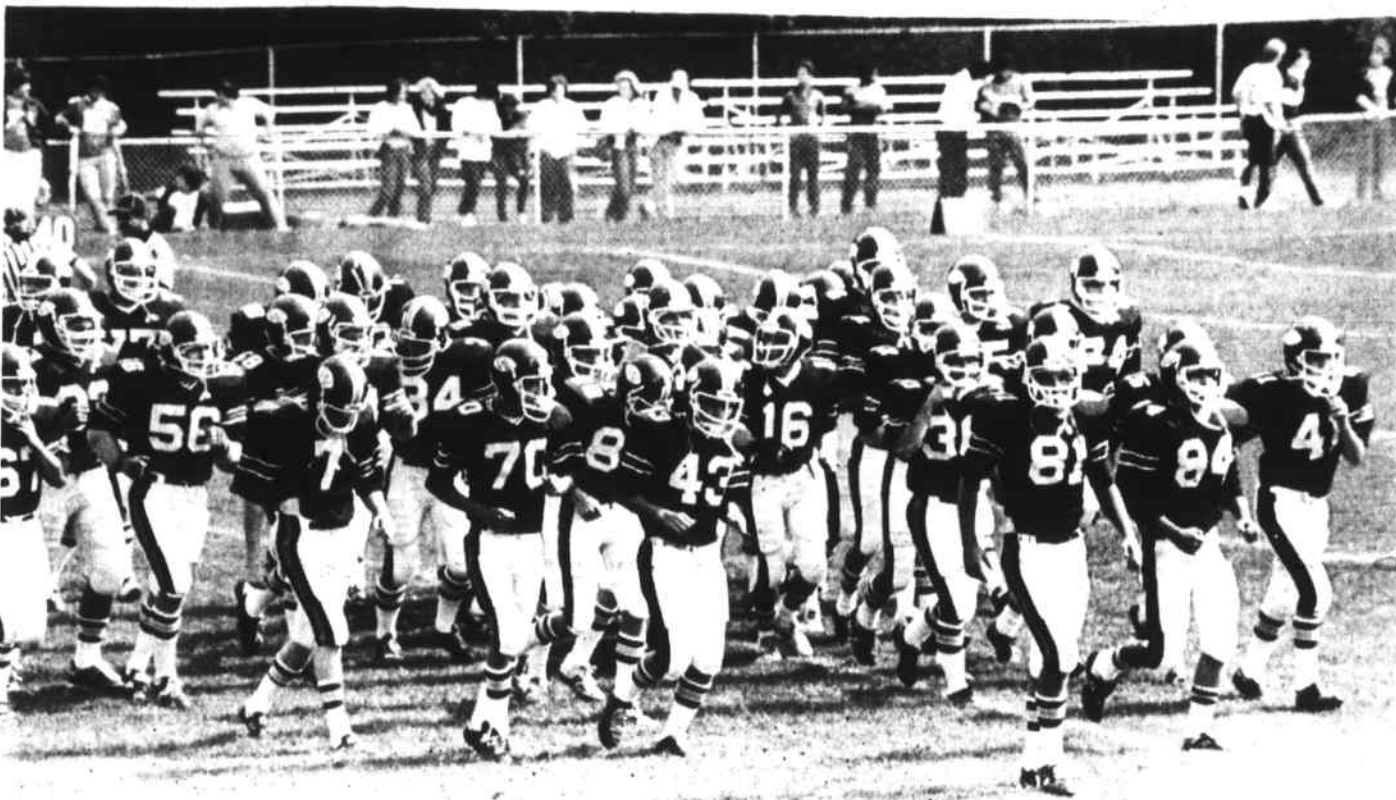

"There is no question that Tony is one of the best backs in this league," notes Harrison. Cutone was utilized mostly as a blocker for the graduated Paul Caizzi a year ago. Now he is the Wildcats' main man.

Other returning Wilmington veterans are senior linebacker Dante DeMarco (5-10, 171) and senior receiver Chris Dindo (5-10, 160). Junior center Ed Shelley rounds out a potentially super offensive line.

The Wildcats' big question is who will step in to fill the gap created by the graduation of all-star quarterback Dean Athanasia (Yale). Senior Bill Woods got the call in the season opener against hapless Greater Lawrence. Junior Chris Athanasia, the third of the three Athanasia brothers (Charlie, Dean) to call signals in Wilmington, has been nursing an injured thumb.

Woods was solid in Sunday's romp, and there is no question that Harrison wants one quarterback to go out and win the job. "You've got to have one good quarterback in this league," says the WHS coach. "We are going to throw the ball."

Harrison is sold on his offensive line and the ability of his defense to get to the football. "Our whole line is back from end to end with the exception of center Gerry Sullivan. We have two great guards in Campbell and Richards. They just block really well."

Wildcat romp

The 1984 edition of Wilmington High School football takes the field prior to Sunday afternoon's Merrimack Valley Conference opener with the Greater Lawrence Reggies. Wilmington rolled to a 27-8 victory.

The developing of a quarterback and a decided lack of depth are WHS concerns going into a rugged schedule over the second half of the season. Wilmington has at least seven players going both ways. "If we have an injury we're talking two positions and not just one," notes Harrison.

Harrison, like most everyone, likes the chances of Chelmsford and Methuen. "Everybody's picking Chelmsford and Methuen, but I think Lawrence and Haverhill could surprise. That first week is sometimes a good indication."

First week results point to the fact that Tewksbury's defense will hold together in the face of a tough day by its' offense, while the Wildcats' offense could be very productive indeed. I wouldn't necessarily bet the house in Chelmsford and Methuen. Very often the Redmen and the Wildcats scoff at size while they're drilling teams to the turf.

Tewksbury Youth Basketball expands

The Tewksbury Boys' Youth Basketball League will include eight-year-old boys for the upcoming 1984-85 season.

The league will be split into three divisions. The Junior division is for eight and nine-year-olds, the Intermediate for ages 10, 11 and 12, and the Senior for ages 13 and 14. This will allow the league to use a smaller ball and lower baskets in the Junior Division to make the game easier to learn and more enjoyable.

As a result of this expansion and new alignment, there are many openings in all three divisions. Registration will be held at the Town Hall Wednesday, September 19 and Friday, September 21, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. for all new and returning players. Any boy born between December 1, 1969 and December 1, 1976 is invited to participate.

Wilmington Youth Basketball registrations

The Wilmington Youth Basketball Association is currently accepting applications to tryout for its sixth, seventh and eighth grade traveling teams.

These teams will represent Wilmington in the North Shore

Youth League Conference for the 1984-85 basketball season.

To apply, call (eighth grade, Jack Bowen, 658-8607); (seventh grade, Tom Robichaud, 658-3355); (sixth grade, Al Maiella, 658-4386).

Tewksbury Pop Warner

B' squad blasts Sudbury, 22-0

The Tewksbury A Pop Warner team succumbed to Sudbury, 26-6 in action Sunday. John Miller scored the only Tewksbury touchdown. Offensive standouts were Tom Burns, Garry Powers and John Miller. Defensive standouts were Tom Burns and David Mountcastle.

The Tewksbury B team blasted Sudbury, 22-0, as Rob Lombardi scored on a 25 yard run. Mark Sweeney carried the ball for a 40 yard rush to the goal, while a quarterback sneak put Dave Boudreau over the goal line. The point after conversions by Glen Harris and Sean Wilson and an interception by Glenn Harris - aided the Redmen cause.

Offensive standouts were Rob Lombardi, Kevin Ward and Eric Lein. Outstanding defensive players were Keith Sullivan, Jeff Rideout and Kevin Ward.

The Tewksbury Chiefs lost a tough game to Sudbury, 3-0, despite a fine offensive showing of over 200 yards led by Sean Mackey (180 yards) Mark Menezes, Scott Bairstow (seven yard reception), Steve Fields, Brian Brooks and Craig Soboleski. Defensive stalwarts were Todd Bairstow, Mark Menezes, Jamie Flynn and Tim Lightfoot, who knocked down a pass in the endzone.

The Tewksbury Sioux D squad squeaked by Chelmsford, 13-6. Joey Goglia's 48 yard sweep and three yard dive for two touchdowns and Dana Boudreau's run for the extra points accounted for all the Sioux scoring. Outstanding offensive line players were Steve Sinkis, Scott Bairstow, David O'Keefe and Mike Roux. Outstanding defensive players were Dana Boudreau, Michael Morin, Mike Linehan, Billy McDonald, Joey Goglia and Mark Rideout.

The Tewksbury Pawnee D squad rolled over Billerica, 27-6.

Tim Mawn led the scoring attack with two touchdowns and a point after. An 80 yard run by Carmen Zullo helped the cause for the Pawnee. A touchdown by Barry Green and a two point conversion completed the scoring. Defensive standouts were Scott Johnson, Jay Mackey, Matthew Moore, Ray Mallett and Tim DeSousa. Jay Mackey recovered a fumble.

Tewksbury Youth Baseball tryouts

Major and Minor League tryouts for Tewksbury Youth Baseball's 1985 season will be held at the East Street Field according to the following schedule.

Saturday, September 22, 29, and Oct. 6: 1 p.m., 12-year-old National; 2 p.m., 10-year-old National; 3 p.m., 12-year-old American; 4 p.m., 10-year-old American Sunday, September 23, 30, and Oct. 7: 1 p.m., 11-year-old American; 2 p.m., eight and nine-year-old American; 3 p.m., 11-year-old National; 4 p.m., eight and nine-year-old National.

Senior and Intermediate League

Saturday, September 22, 29 and Oct. 6: 9 a.m., 13-year-old American; 10:30 a.m., 14 and 15-year-old National.

Sunday, September 23, 30 and Oct. 7: 9 a.m., 13-year-old National; 10:30 a.m., 14 and 15-year-old American.

Those unable to attend tryouts on an assigned date and time, please arrange an alternate time at the field during the first week of tryouts.

Two of the above three tryouts must be made in order to meet eligibility requirements. It is recommended that participants make all three if possible. Late registrations will be accepted at the fields.

TMHS field hockey

Wildcats, Lions blank Redmen

The Tewksbury High School field hockey girls lost their opening game to an aggressive Wilmington team, 4-0 in MVC action last week.

The outstanding play by center-halfback Sue Wyshak held the Tewksbury defense together, as the Redmen allowed only one goal during the first half despite the ball being in the Wilmington offensive end for most of the period.

The only offensive surge for Tewksbury came late in the first half when forward Karen Smart broke through the Wilmington defense at the 25 yard line for a shot on goal.

Wilmington went on to score three goals in the second half against a tired Tewksbury defense. Goalkeeper DeeDee Lampert had a total of 21 saves.

Later in the week the Redmen lost to Chelmsford, 1-0 in their home opener. The only goal was scored during a penalty stroke late in the second half.

The Tewksbury girls played a very aggressive game, with Val Greene leading the team with several key interceptions. Many offensive drives were initiated by the great stickwork of wing Karen Fahey. Once again goalie terments to residents of Cedar Street. Cedar Street residents are unanimously opposed to paying for that sewer.

DeeDee Lampert played an excellent game, making eight saves.

Most of the articles for the warrant are non-controversial. Article 6 seeks to name the new gymnasium to be constructed for the Wilmington High School after Lawrence H. Cushing Sr., for many years the athletic director of the public schools.

Article 8 seeks $50,000 for renovation and remodeling of the former Buzzell School, as a senior citizen center. A figure of $50,000 was proposed by the town manager. A compromise figure of $11,000 has been reached, equaling the amount estimated to be available in the town budget.

Articles 9 and 10 seek to rezone land at the end of Ballardvale Street to General Industrial Zone. The Wilmington Planning Board approved both articles Tuesday night, after a public hearing.

About 15 acres of land is involved in the two articles. Attorney Joseph Courtney, speaking for the article, told the planning board that the proposal represents a 10 percent increase in the zoning, and the last parcels to be rezoned on Ballardvale Street. He estimated the traffic increase would be two or two and one-half percent at the most.

Courtney and the town manager discussed the traffic problems, as a part of the hearing. A large segment of the traffic on Ballardvale Street is as a result of the increased industrial facilities in Andover, both testified.

Town Manager Buzz Stapczynski said there are prospects for the improvement of the Route 125 - Route 93 problems, and that Andover is "pushing ahead" in an effort to solve the problems.

Stapczynski told the planning board that bids for the reconstruction of the lower part of Ballardvale Street were opened recently and are being studied by the town engineer. The town has been awarded $807,000 for the project.

Low freshman turnout for soccer

The lack of a freshman soccer team at the high school was one of the chief topics under discussion at Monday night's brief school committee. Stating that, "We continue to be responsive to the (children's) needs," Superintendent Dr. Carol Sager brought up the issue of youth soccer at the behest of several parents.

According to Athletic Director Jim Gillis, there is no freshman team this year because not enough boys signed up and there seemed to be a lack of enthusiasm on the students' part. Committee member Linda McMenimen took exception to this. She suggested that perhaps "more should be done to involve students in ninth grade." Besides posting notices for freshmen team tryouts on a bulletin board, students need special encouragement from both parents and coaches.

Mr. Palmer, a coach in the Youth Soccer League, agreed saying that soccer is "more a participating sport than a spectator sport" and should be encouraged as it does much to generate school spirit.

Board members decided to find out how many students would be interested in freshmen soccer next year and act on a suggestion from John Brooks to bring it up in mid-winter when budgetary matters are considered, so that the necessary funds could be allotted to this sport.

Dr. Sager and Principal Paul Fleming gave a report on progress at the high school. Dr. Sager said she is pleased with the way the new no smoking and outside access rules are working out. Scheduling is a major problem right now, with over-sized classes in pre-calculus and honors math topping the list. Extra sections were created in honors chemistry and honors biology to handle the large numbers in those classes.

Special Education PAC President John Biase next gave an update on the services available through his organization. He explained that his PAC would continue to fund the scholarship program for two deserving students, provide the counselling service for parents of special needs children, help supply materials needed at Camp Forty Acres, and work with the Recreation Department on "something special" for these children.

Two upcoming events sponsored by the Special Education PAC were also mentioned. They are the Membership Drive on Oct. 1 and a fundraising dance at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Oct. 12 with profits from the $5 tickets going to the scholarship fund.

Dr. Sager praised the PAC as a "special interest group" which has supported the school budget for all students, not just those with special needs.

John Brooks then brought up a tabled proposal to adopt the Short Form Discipline Code from the Boston schools as "one way of communicating to students and parents the kind of behavior expected of them." This code would be used as an introduction to present discipline policy and be distributed to every pupil in the system. The proposal passed by a vote of 4-1.

Other topics dealt with during the meeting were hiring further school staff, acknowledging five Analog Devices Corp. scholarships of $1,000 each to be awarded for excellence in academics and extracurricular activities, and planning future meetings to be held on Oct. 3 (for the Commonwealth Incentive Aid Program) and Oct. 4 (to provide input on House Bill 5000, regarding teachers' pay, benefits and qualifications, etc.)

Locking of library not in the book for librarians, say trustees

The Wilmington Library Board of Trustees is miffed.

Town Manager Buzz Stapczynski, changing the custodial service after the transfer of the town hall into the former Glen Road School, has asked that the library personnel close up the library at the end of the day, and not the custodians.

The trustees, meeting last night were unanimously opposed. The employees include many who are female, and the trustees feel that it should not be their job to check fluorescent lighting before leaving, and perform other such custodial duties. Those duties, they say are "custodial" in nature.

They also object to the female employees being the persons to have to lock up the facility each night. That function, too, is custodial, the trustees told the Town Crier.

Chairman George Boylen, speaking for the trustees, said he feels the town manager, by his proposals is "endangering the building and the library staff."

Free flu clinic Sunday

The Wilmington Board of Health will hold a free flu clinic at the Town Hall, 121 Glen Rd. on Sunday, Sept. 23, from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Persons 65 years of age or over and persons of any age who have a chronic disease such as heart disease, high blood pressure, asthma, chronic lung disease, diabetes, kidney disease should avail themselves of this service.

Immunization is also recommended for persons who provide essential community services or who may be at increased risk of exposure such as medical care personnel and social protection groups. Anyone allergic to eggs or egg products should not take this vaccine.

There will be a limited amount of the split virus flu vaccine only for children under 13 years of age and chronic diseases. Pneumonia vaccine will be offered at a cost of $5.00 per shot. This vaccine provides permanent immunity. Adults previously immunized with this vaccine need not be reimmunized.

Any questions may be directed to the Board of Health 658-4298.

Letter to the editor

Dear Larz:

I noticed the invitation to meet Paul Fleming, the new principal of Wilmington High, in last week's paper.

I'd like to ask all your readers who agree with the new discipline code and want to show Mr. Fleming that we support the enforcement of these codes, to make a special effort to drop by the high school cafeteria sometime between 4 and 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 20.

Whether we have children or not, we all understand what a difficult task Mr. Fleming has ahead of him. It will take much courage and perseverance to have the high school take the lead in turning around our permissive society.

If we can't do much to help, the least we can do is offer encouragement to those who are willing to try.

Every Wilmington resident has a stake in this undertaking.

Thanks,
Elaine Tucker

Arrests
Tuesday evening Sgt. Vassallo and Officer David McCue arrested two New Hampshire men on drug related charges. Carlos M. Silva, 19, of Brook Road, Salem and Frederick M. Getchell, 21, Central Steet, Hampstead were both charged with possession of a class D substance. They were later bailed for a Woburn Court appearance. Silva was turned over to Andover State Police for a when a computer check revealed an outstanding warrant.

Early Thursday morning Sgt. Rooney arrested Ronald Fournier, 37, of 8 Fitz Terr., Wilmington charging him with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol and operating after revocation of his license. He was bailed for a morning court appearance.

Officers Peterson and LaRivee arrested William Jones, 22, of Wilameanor Avenue, Burlington on a default warrant issued by State Police out of Andover and a default warrant issued from Wilmington for failure to pay fines.

Friday night Officer James White arrested Gary Tounsign, 8 Winter Street, Wilmington on a default warrant issued by Woburn Court.

Edward Theriault, 18, of Nichols Street, Wilmington was arrested Friday night and charged with possession of class B and D drugs. Inspector Jepson made the arrest.

Several arrests by the alcohol enforcement unit which was on the road Friday evening included Keith Dunnett, 18, 815 Woburn St. and Stephen Bonacorsi, 18 of Wightman Road were both charged with possession of marijuana.

Fourteen youths from Reading and Woburn, both adults and juveniles were arrested Friday evening for underage possession of alcohol. The arrests resulted from a stepped up enforcement of the liquor laws by the department.

Early Saturday morning Richard Corella, 40, of 1329 Whipple Rd., Tewksbury was arrested and charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol and failing to keep to the right. Officer McNally made the arrest.

Michael McNaney, 31, of 17 Dogwood Dr., Townsend was arrested Saturday morning and charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, failure to keep right and possession of marijuana with intent to distribute.

Two men were arrested and two others placed under protective custody Saturday about 4 a.m. by Officers King, McNally and Hancock. Lonnie Arkalis, 18, 34 Peach Orchard Rd., and Brian Howard, 18, 156b Wilmington Rd., both of Burlington, were arrested. Arkalis was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol and Howard was charged with possession of class D controlled substance.

Paul Ryan, 34 of 143 Main St., Wilmington was arrested by Officer King Saturday morning. Ryan was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Officers Gable and Sheppard arrested Brian Taylor, 19, of 6 Blake Terr., Woburn after a computer check revealed a default warrant issued by Woburn District Court.

Hearing check Friday

The hearing aid specialist will be at the Drop-in Center Friday morning, Sept. 21 from 10 to noon. He will check hearing. Those presently wearing a hearing aid may have it checked for proficiency.

Flu and pneumonia clinic

The influenza and pneumonia clinic will be held in the Town Hall (Glen Road) Sunday, Sept. 23 from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The flu shot is free, but the pneumonia shot will cost $5.00. Those who had a pneumonia shot last year will not need another one. It is believed that one shot will give complete immunity.

Those confined to their homes may call the Center at 657-7595 or 658-2258 and make an appointment to have the shot in their home.

Arts and crafts whist
The arts and crafts whist party will be held in the Center Monday afternoon, October 15, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Special town meeting

A special town meeting will be held at the high school Monday evening, Sept. 24 starting at 7:30. Several warrant articles will be voted on at this meeting. One of them will pertain to an article submitted by the Council on Aging. The article asks for money to help renovate the Buzzell School into a multi purpose Senior Citizen Center. When completed this center will better serve both disabled and healthy seniors, and provide day care.

All seniors who can are urged to attend this meeting. The Council cannot accomplish anything without the help of all the town's elderly. This was proven at the town meeting when after many hours of debate, the right to occupy the Buzzell School was finally granted.

Vandalism has taken its toll over the past five years that the school has been unoccupied. The chimney has been filled with rocks, the furnace has been shut off and the bathrooms need repair. The students at Shawsheen Tech will do the work free, but to start them off $50,000 is needed. Many thousands have been donated by the seniors themselves. Anyone who would like to should feel free to donate also.

October social

The October therapeutic social will be held at Tewksbury - Wilmington Elks Hall, Thursday, October 18. Chicken pie will be served with salad, potato, vegetable, rolls, coffee and ice cream with strawberry sauce. Music will be provided for dancing and a prize for the most interesting costume will be awarded. Sign up for this social will begin Thursday, Sept. 20, a $3.00 deposit to help defray the cost of the evening will be requested. Early sign up is advised.

Custodian needed

Dynamics Research Corp. in North Reading has a job for a senior citizen as a custodian. It pays $5.00 an hour for three hours a day. Hours are flexible. Those interested should call Mary Bainbridge at 658-6100, ext. 2273.

Meteorologist Dick Albert

Dicky talks to the elderly!

By JIM ROUILLARD

He's a real foul weather friend who sticks by — and even revels — in the very worst types of weather.

He's Dick Albert, well-known Boston meteorologist who, like Sir Thomas More, is an obvious man for all seasons — since he positively thrives on blizzards, thunderstorms, hurricanes and nor'easters.

But as much as he loves the passion and turbulence of the great storms, he says he regrets the destruction they wreak — and he clearly likes humans better than hailstones.

That affection was made evident recently when Albert came to the Eastern Middlesex regions, to talk to senior citizens and schoolchildren — about the weather, his wardrobe and a few old wives' tales.

A native and current resident of Newton, where he lives with his wife, Mary Ann and their two sons, Marc and Matt, Albert was invited to speak at Stoneham's Senior Citizen Center by Social Outreach Worker Marion Rockwood. And — if the seniors' grins were any gauge — Albert improved on the already fine weather last Wednesday by the ease and sunniness of his disposition.

He passed among the elders — who came from both Wakefield and Stoneham — with a hug or a handshake and a broad smile for each — and even paid a special visit to an 85-year-old admirer, Claudia Meehan, who didn't want to put the staff to the trouble of carrying her and her wheelchair upstairs to the lecture hall.

"How many of you can feel a change in the weather coming on?" Albert asked, relaxed and casual in his address, moving among his audience to be closer to them rather than just lecturing from the front of the room. "Well," he said, "people can feel approaching weather changes in their bodies — and women are more sensitive to weather changes than men."

But what about other clues to weather prediction? Rings around the moon, for example, and various old rhymes?

"Predictions by rings around the moon are about 50 percent accurate," Albert said. As for: "Red sky at morning, sailors take warning;

Red sky at night, sailors delight." Albert summed that superstition in one terse word: "Horsefeathers."

Albert, who is well-known for his breezy delivery and abbreviations on Channel 5's newscasts, said he loves talking about the weather, but doesn't like to make it too technical:

"It took me years to understand the terminology," he said, "so I don't like to inflict it on the listeners. I mean, who really wants to hear about 'upper-level energy packets'?"

"So I use abbreviations, like 'F' and 'D,' for 'Fine and dandy,' 'TTC,' for 'Too tough to call,' and even 'JD,' for 'Just ducky.'"

Albert explained that he has his own philosophy for weather forecasting:

"So much of the news is depressing," he said. "Death, wars, murder and other crimes that I like to lighten things up for the listeners. I feel that if you're enthusiastic about something people will enjoy it more, and I love the weather, especially in New England, where it's a real challenge to predict."

Albert said that people's responses to weather forecasts are not always "Just Ducky," though most people are pretty nice to him.

"Occasionally," he said, "someone will call up and say: 'Hey, Albert, you really messed up.'"

"You have to be pretty thick-skinned to be a meteorologist because you can easily make wrong forecasts in New England. It's especially tough in winter, because you need to predict not only where it will rain or snow, but in what amounts, as well.

"For example, if I say there'll be six inches of snow within the Route 128 circle, some guy might call up and say: 'My brother lives one inch west of 128 — does that mean he'll get 12 inches of snow and I'll only get one — or what?'"

"Once, a man from Reading called after I said there would be a 50 percent chance of frost that night. He asked: 'Should I take in my tomatoes?' Now, frost can vary from yard to yard or street to street, so I asked him certain questions and then said there are no certainties and that he'd probably have a 50-50 chance of frost."

"About a week later I got a package in the mail. It was a box of rotten tomatoes with a note: 'Fifty percent change — Hunh!'"

"I've also learned not to say it's hot enough to fry an egg on the sidewalk. I said that once — so a man tried it, and on various other surfaces. He wrote me that he found only one place where you can fry an egg on a super-hot day: on the hood of a black car. Of course he was kind enough to send me the results of his research: unfried and partially fried eggs in one neat package."

Albert, who returned to the Boston area in 1978 after stints as weather reporter in San Francisco and Denver, has also served as a forecaster for the U.

Theresa Mongiardo of Eastern Avenue, Stoneham, gets a hug and a grin from one of her favorite television personalities, meteorologist Dick Albert of Channel 5.

The gold rush of 1850

FM TALK: Another edition of those offbeat historical tidbits from our footloose correspondent:

In July of 1850 the gold rush in California was prompting people from all walks of life to give up their roots to seek a fortune. One body of individuals that was not particularly pleased with this sudden mass exodus was the United States Navy. The reason? Among those leaving their roots behind were the sailors on board five hundred ships in San Francisco harbor!

Around the same time as the California gold rush Harriet Beecher Stowe penned "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Southerners took particular offense to the book, and sent her hundreds of nasty letters. Among the abusive mail was a package containing the ear of a black man.

Presidents seem to be especially vulnerable to controversial incidences. All a president has to do is come close to bopping somebody over the head with a golf ball and he's going to find himself in the midst of media criticism that would give you the impression he'd just unleashed a nuclear bomb. Franklin Pierce was no exception. He received torrents of criticism after he accidentally ran down an old woman with his horse. In fact, he was arrested and then released once his identity was known to the police. He had to live that incident down for the rest of his term in office.

During the mid-1850's military personnel had a very rough time getting around the country. The

Childhood Laboratory

Northeast Voke seeks pre-school volunteers

Forty-eight pre-school children, ranging from three to five years of age, will be accepted to participate in the Early Childhood Laboratory School at Northeast Regional Vocational School in Wakefield this October.

The children will be given a two-hour program three days each week, on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, under the supervision of an instructor who will be training high school students in a Nursery Kindergarten Aide Program. There will be a $2.50 daily charge to cover cost of materials and a light snack.

The Nursery Kindergarten Aide Program not only trains high school students to take their places alongside the nursery or kindergarten teacher as most necessary and valued helpers, but also provides an opportunity to 48 young children living in the District to receive an enriching early school experience.

The number of pre-schoolers is limited to 48: 24 children to participate in the morning session and 24 in the afternoon session. The morning session is 9:00 to 11:00 A.M.; and the afternoon session is 12 Noon to 2:00 P.M.

Since there are only 48 openings available and many times that number usually apply, the selection will be made on a random basis to avoid problems. Allocation of spaces for the pre-schoolers will be made on the same quota system which governs admissions of high school students from the 12 communities. Preference will be given to those children who were not enrolled in this program in previous years, however, all applications are invited.

Parents wishing to enroll a pre-school child in the 3 to 5 year old age group must send to the Health Care Technician Department, Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School, Hemlock Road, Wakefield, Mass., 01880, the following information on a sheet of plain paper: date of application, the child's full name, age, sex, exact date of birth, parents' name, address, and telephone number, and whether the morning or afternoon session is preferred.

The applying child must be no younger than three nor older than five years on September 15. This information must be in writing and will not be accepted by telephone. Deadline for application is September 14, 1984.

The names of the applicants will be placed in a container and drawn by lot. Acceptance to the program will be made according to the number allowed by quota in the community in which they live.

According to community quotas established for student acceptance to Northeast, the number of laboratory school seats (48) available to each community this year are: Chelsea 3, Malden 6, Melrose 5, North Reading 2, Reading 4, Revere 5, Saugus 4, Stoneham 3, Wakefield 4, Winchester 3, Winthrop 3, and Woburn 6.

Dick Albert

that he has known brides who have planned their wedding day based on the Old Farmer's Almanac — but: "Nobody can predict weather for a year ahead."

Albert did, however, distribute "Albertcast" cards to the audience, before departing to speak at a local grammar school, an activity which he says he thoroughly enjoys. The "Albertcast," he said, is not foolproof, but it includes a caricature of Dick Albert, with a special chemical in the necktie which changes color depending on the degree of moisture in the air. The card includes the following rhyme:

"Dick's Tie Blue — Means Fair Weather Due
Dick's Tie Pink — Damp, Rainy Skies, I think
Dick's Tie Lavender — A Change In The Weather"

Albert did say that sometimes a weather pattern occurs in October and November which is called a "persistence pattern" — that is, a pattern which has persisted in the early and middle fall may persist into the first half of winter, based on a study of weather history, statistics and probability.

Right now, I'm sitting outside a groundhog's hole, putting together my final thoughts for this story. The weather is gorgeous with a warm nourishing sun and blue sky. Dick's tie is faintly pink, I think.

The groundhog hasn't appeared (well, it's September, not February,) and I see no squirrels with bushy tails, no thick husks on corn.

There is no apparent ring around the moon (it's high noon) — and since I'm in the middle of a dry field there are probably no beavers nearby. So I guess I'll have to rely on my aching back and Dick Albert's faint pink tie to know that rain may be on the way.

As for me, meeting Dick Albert was a real treat — as it was for the seniors and students themselves — but I may still keep a weather eye for scrawny squirrels with skimpy tails, very thin husks on corn, and lean and laid-back beavers.

I'll also hope that with the right kind of persistence pattern, the first half of the coming winter will be real "M and E" — (Mild and Easy) — and that we won't hit anything too "B and B" — (Blizzard and Blustery) — until well into March.

In any case, having met the genial man himself, I'll certainly listen to Dickie with renewed attention and respect. And he's right about hurricanes and blizzards: despite the danger, they're very exciting events.

transcontinental railroad had not yet been completed, so Secretary of War Jefferson Davis had seventy camels shipped to the United States. The camels were pressed into action for two years until the railroad was finished.

Another president who faced a period of arduous testing from the press was James Buchanan, who was the only bachelor to ever serve in the White House. Buchanan's difficulties began when his fiancée — a woman by the name of Anne Caroline Coleman — committed suicide. Buchanan claimed that he loved her and apparently wanted to marry her, when she suddenly broke off their relationship one week before her death. Buchanan refused to speak publicly about Miss Coleman ever again.

You may think that the controversial issue of pleading innocent on the grounds of temporary insanity is a legal phenomenon of the seventies and eighties. This isn't so. The temporary insanity plea was first used in the United States in 1859. Congressman Dan Sickles was accused of killing his wife's lover, and even though evidence proved conclusively that Sickles had committed the crime, a jury found him innocent on the grounds of temporary insanity.

During the Civil War the New York Tribune had on its staff a foreign correspondent who later was to become the founder of the communist doctrines. He was Karl Marx, the newspaper's foreign political correspondent.

In 1862 General Grant ordered all Jews "expelled from the (Treasury) department within twenty-four hours," because, Grant claimed, they were violating all the trade regulations established by the department. Grant was not being anti-Semitic, however. The "Jews" he referred to were peddlers and traders.

In 1861 there were only two countries in the Western world other than the U.S. which permitted slavery. Can you name them? The answer appears at the end of this column.

Hiram Revels, of Mississippi, was the first black man to be elected to the United States Senate. What made his taking office especially sweet for the Negro population he represented was that his seat had last been filled by Jefferson Davis, who was known for his racist views.

If you readers think nepotism is rampant in today's political scene, consider this: When U.S. Grant was president, he handed out thirteen federal positions to his relatives!

Grant also held another dubious distinction: He was the first president known to be arrested for speeding in a horse carriage!

Here's a tidbit of history that's bound to raise a few eyebrows: In 1872 Congress passed a piece of legislation that called for members of both houses to be docked one day's pay for each day they were absent from work. The exception was absenteeism due to illness. This little-known law has been enforced only twice since its passage more than a century ago.

While on the subject of Congressional salaries, lawmakers the very next year voted themselves a fifty percent pay increase and made it retroactive for two years! Perhaps they felt they deserved the money because their life expectancy then was only forty years, and they had a lot of the good life to squeeze in during the years that remained.

"You can always get the truth from an American statesman after he has turned seventy, or given up all hope of the presidency." — Wendell Phillips.

Make it a good week. By the way, the answer to that trivia question is Cuba and Brazil.

CLOGGERS

The Yankee Doodle Cloggers started off another busy season with a performance at the Lowell Historical Society at 4 p.m. on Saturday, September 8. This will be followed by a series of performances at the Topsfield Fair at 3:30 p.m. on September 29 and 30 and again on October 6 and 7.

For those of you unfamiliar with clogging, it is best explained as a mixture of various types of folk dance — Irish step dancing, Scottish jigs and reels, German dances, and many others incorporated into the dance over a period of years. It started in the form of old-time "barn dancing" and evolved into what you see today. It is a high-spirited, high-energy dance — entertaining to watch, fun to do and requires toe-tapping, foot-stomping music that lifts the spirits.

The Yankee Doodle Cloggers performs at fairs, festivals, private parties and benefits. The exhibition team has appeared at square dance conventions in Vermont, was featured on Evening Magazine, and has performed with Roy Clark and Jeanne C. Riley, the country and western stars.

For more information on classes, contact Jo-Ann Ehrenfried, Instructor and Team Director, at 897-8800. For more information on the exhibition, contact Rita Willett at 658-4235.

BUILDING PRINCIPLES

The Builders Association of Greater Boston will conduct the "Residential Building Principles Course" to begin on Wednesday, September 26 at 7:15 P.M. and will run for 12 consecutive Wednesday evenings.

The course comprehensively covers the many steps involved in construction of a home or small building — from initial planning to the completed product. Some of the topics in the course include: Feasibility, Soil Conditioning, Building Codes, Environmental Regulations, Site Planning, Sub-Contracting, Excavation, Financing, Zoning, Permits, Plumbing, Electrical, Insulation and Energy Conservation. Classes will be held at the Association's headquarters, 400 Washington St. in Braintree, just off the Southeast Expressway. (Washington Street Exit going South — Union Street Exit going North).

Prominent area home and commercial builder, Richard G. Lind, is the dean and instructor for the course. Lind is a graduate of Boston College, Past President of the Builders Assoc. of Greater Boston, the Home Builders Assoc. of Mass., a recipient of the "Builder of the Year" award, and a member of the Board of Directors of the National Assoc. of Home Builders.

Lind emphasizes that no special educational requirements are needed for this course and that it will be beneficial for realtors, appraisers, home inspectors or anyone interested in light construction or in building their own home.

To register for the course or for further information, please contact Linda Brown at the Builders Assoc. of Greater Boston at (617) 848-6600.

MUSEUM CONCERTS

The concert season begins with the extraordinary-countertenor, Jeffrey Gall, in an appearance with the Boston Museum Trio on September 30, followed on October 14 by John Gibbons performing the Goldberg Variations. On October 24, the outstanding English ensemble, the Consort Musicke, will perform. Call 267-9300, ext. 300 for a subscription brochure.

AUDITIONS CHORUS

The Medford Chorus, Gayna Akillian Pacl, Music Director, will accept new members by audition during its weekly rehearsal on September 24th. All voices are welcome; sopranos are particularly needed. Singing a cappella and accompanied, medieval music to modern, the 40-voice Chorus performs at least two major concerts each season as well as smaller benefit and outreach performances.

For more information call: 396-5800 ext. 226 (weekdays), 396-3264 (evenings-weekends).

ART FESTIVAL

The Rockport Chamber of Commerce Annual Amateur Art Festival will be held October 5th through 8th at the Rockport Art Association.

All amateur artists wishing to enter the show should apply for their application now. Only one entry in each category can be accepted: — originals only in oils, watercolors, casein, pastel, pen & ink, pencil, charcoal, colored felt pen, mixed-media, graphics, works of sculpture and ceramics.

For further information write: Amateur Art Festival, Rockport Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 67, Rockport, Mass. 01966.

JOB SEEKING ASSISTANCE

Registrations are now being accepted for Fall Job Readiness Workshops sponsored by Changeworks, the Displaced Homemaker Program at the Lowell YWCA. The 15-session workshop series is designed for women who need to return to paid work after spending a number of years at home or who want to move into more productive and satisfying work. A major focus in the group sessions is aiding women in defining their skills, interests and needs in order to discover where they can best fit into today's jobs. Job search skills — such as resume writing and interviewing techniques are also discussed. The workshop provides a supportive setting in which women can think about and explore various job options, combat fears and learn how to find the job they want. Referrals and information about training and education for job readiness are also available. The Change-Works Program is funded by Bay State Skills Corporation and is free of charge to women over 35 who have been homemakers and who now need to find paid work due to divorce, separation, widowhood or other changes in family circumstances and income.

Day and evening workshops will be offered. For more information, call Kathy Desilets at 454-0686.

EVERGREEN EDUCATION

Boston University's Evergreen Program for elders begins on Tuesday, October 2 and runs every Tuesday for eight weeks. Faculty from the University will lecture on conflicts in our society. Discussions, physical exercise and language instruction in French or Spanish are included. Tuition is $10. For dates and additional information please call 353-4128.

VOLUNTEER SECRETARY

A part-time volunteer secretary is sought to provide clerical support to Office for Children staff: the Advocate who is responsible for information and referral on all children's services and child case advocacy; and, the Community Representative who primarily assists the Eastern Middlesex Council for Children (a local advocacy organization).

The office is located in downtown Wakefield. It's a small office with just three staff people and a familial atmosphere. A volunteer secretary would be requested to type, photo-copy, and act as a receptionist. Hours are flexible. The commitment desired is from October 1st to November 30th.

If you have clerical skills and are willing to donate several hours a week for two months, please contact John Beagan, Eastern Middlesex Council for Children program, 7 Lincoln Street, Wakefield. (245-5267).

INFO CENTER

The Student Service Center is a student-run information center which offers help to students, teachers, parents, and administrators with various questions they have pertaining to students' rights and educational issues. Our college files include publications from many New England colleges as well as information on financial aid and career opportunities. We also have topic files which include fact sheets and helpful pamphlets on a variety of subjects ranging from nutritional and diet information to drug abuse and teenage pregnancy. Anyone is welcome to come and browse through our material. We are located at the Northeast Regional Education Center, 219 North St., North Reading, Ma. 01864. Feel free to call us at 664-5723 (ext. 30) with any questions you may have concerning students' rights, educational laws and matters, or requests for information. Students and professional staff are available to provide workshops on student empowerment and rights as well as a host of other related issues and concerns.

ARTS & CRAFTS FAIR

The Arts Association of North Reading is sponsoring an Arts & Crafts Fair, October 14 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Rt. 28, North Reading. Any craftspersons interested in exhibiting or becoming members of the Arts Association should contact Lale Lewis 664-4238 or Flora Silvestro 664-3466.

BATTERED WOMEN

The Waltham Battered Women Support Committee, Inc. is a non-profit organization which provides emergency shelter, support groups, and other services for battered women and their children. The support committee needs volunteers to staff the hotline and shelter, especially at night, and to help with childcare and office work. They will hold a volunteer training program from September 29 through October 11. Those interested in becoming volunteers with the organization must attend an introductory meeting on September 24 or 27. For information call the Hotline: 899-8676.

MOVIE REVIEWS

Rochelle Flynn

Oxford Blues Metropolis

"Oxford Blues." Starring Rob Lowe, Ally Sheedy, Amanda Pays and Julian Sands. Directed and written by Robert Boris. Produced by Cassian Elwes and Elliott Kastner. Rated PG-13. Oxford Blues joins the rather undistinguished ranks of Hollywood remakes in an updated and reshaped version of 1938's "A Yank at Oxford." While the original may not have been a classic of the silver screen, you can be sure that this version, written and directed by Robert Boris, is not going to win kudos either. Much of the plot is as trite and predictable as any television sitcom. In the hands of a more capable leading man, this semester at school could have been more enjoyable. If Rob Lowe had given a more charismatic performance, and spent less time posing artfully for the benefit of teenaged girls, this flick would have fared better.

Lowe plays Nick, a Las Vegas parking attendant who hustles his way into Oxford University in an effort to meet fellow student lady Victoria (Amanda Pays), whom he spotted in a magazine. He is, of course, shown up as a crass, rude American by the better mannered, and dressed, English students. We then watch as Nick attempts to grow up, sided by fellow American Rona ((Ally Sheedy) and a most gracious blueblood (Julian Sands).

If you haven't fallen asleep yet, wait until the endless shots of student rowing sculls, or dreary scenes of fashionably dressed students watching endless shots of rowing sculls. Let's just say that director Boris is less than imaginative.

On the other side of the coin, however, is a fine English cast. Sands and Pays look classy and sound impressive. Alan Howard, Michael Gough, and Aubrey Morris are professors three, and memorable in their supporting roles.

Last, but certainly not least, those shots of Oxford that make it through Boris' heavy direction are wonderful. He does manage to capture a real feel for that esteemed corner of academia. It is just a shame that the plot is as hackneyed as Lowe's performance is dull.

"Metropolis." Starring Brigitte Helm, Alfred Abel, Gustav Frohlich, Rudolf Klein-Rogge. Directed by Fritz Lang. Reconstructed and adapted by Giorgio Moroder.

Fritz Lang's silent classic has been remarkably restored, including some formerly missing scenes and still photographs. The result is a glorious piece of art, and should be shown to all reckless young Hollywood directors before they waste anyone's money.

The intence story concerns an industrial society in which workers drudge below the earth while the upper-class frolics in pleasure gardens. The great art deco city envisioned by Lang is still as frighteningly awe-inspiring as it must have been in 1926.

Some color has been added, and the print itself is nearly flawless. The most marked change comes in the form of Giorgio Moroder's score and soundtrack, which is contemporary, and very loud. Purists, of course, will not agree, but Moroder's energetic soundtrack enlivens Lang's masterful, but unrelenting story. If the soundtrack had been less loud and pounding, this would have been a perfect mingling of technologies, past and present.

In Sandwich

Antique Auto Show

The 12th Annual Antique Automobile Show and Competition, for many antique auto buffs the most memorable show of the year, will be held at Heritage Plantation of Sandwich, Sunday, September 23, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., with an afternoon concert conducted by John Pandolfi, 1-3 p.m.

Last year's show boasted over 128 beautiful classic and vintage automobiles, plus a spectator audience of well over 2,000. This year's show promises to be better than ever. As always spectators may vote for their favorite cars in Classes A through D. The voting is held from 11 a.m. through 1:30 p.m. Prizes are awarded at 3 p.m., and a ceremony followed by a parade of the winners through the 76 acres of the Plantation.

Following the format of past show's: Class A Competition will include antique cars up through the year 1916; Class B will have all cars 1917 through 1927; Class C all cars 1928 through 1942; Class D all cars 1943 through 1957; Class E comprise Special Interest Autos only from 1958 through 1967.

All cars in Class E are for exhibit only; no prizes will be awarded in that category. All autos should be preregistered for showing.

The afternoon concert by the Pandolfi's 20 piece band will be held under a tent on the special events grounds below the windmill.

The Heritage Plantation car collection in the Round Barn boasts a new star this year. The 1932 Auburn Boat-tail Speedster has been freshly restored in a stunning color combination — authentic Auburn colors of the thirties. And again this year, we have several seasonal exhibits which will also be open to the public the day of the car show.

Come and enjoy an exciting day at the Museum. Picnic grounds are located outside the main gate, so bring the whole family and a picnic lunch.

Membership and admission tickets for the day will be honored for the car show and will include admission to all the museum buildings, exhibitions and grounds.

Tickets are $5 for adults, $2.00 for children 12 and under, and free for children five and under.

Heritage Plantation is three miles from the Cape Cod Sagamore Bridge, take first right off Route 6, turn right at first traffic light on Route 6A, then proceed to Route 130 and bear right. Watch for signs to Heritage Plantation.

Marco's Magic Co.'s 9th year

Now entering their ninth magical year here, Marco the Magi, Le Grand David, Seth the Sensational and the musicians, assistants, singers and dancers of Marco's production of Le Grand David and His Own Spectacular Magic Company return to the stage of the Cabot Street Cinema Theatre, September 30, with performances at 3:00 and 8:00 P.M.

Presented weekends throughout the years, Le Grand David and His Own Spectacular Magic Company is a 65-member company headed by three generations of stage magicians performing 2½-hours of full stage magic at its own 1920's vintage playhouse — the Cabot Street Cinema Theatre.

As in the past eight years, the magic company has been busy during its annual end-of-summer vacation, embellishing costumes, curtains and apparatus to even further enhance the turn-of-the-century style stage magic extravaganza which is already known for its lavish color and spectacle.

Performances are scheduled throughout the fall and winter as the company enters its ninth magical year in residence here. The 900th consecutive performance will be on Sunday, December 16 at 3:00 P.M.

Since February, 1977, a cooperative effort by the more than 60 cast members has created and sustained eye-filling magical entertainment complete with grand stage illusions, dance, song, mystery, music, Spanish clowns, puppetry and juggling.

Ticket prices are still an entertainment bargain at $6.00 for Adults and $4.00 for Children under twelve, available at the Cabot Street Cinema Theatre, 286 Cabot St., Beverly, Mass. (617) 927-3677.

Award winning SUNBOX based on saltbox

By WILLIAM PACINO

The New England SUNBOX, one of three winners of the energy-efficient home design competition sponsored by New England Electric, is now open for public inspection on Argilla Road in Methuen. The house, designed by architect Paul Stevenson Oles of Interface Architects, Newton with solar consultant Norman Saunders of Weston, is one of an advanced generation of low-cost, high performance passive solar houses currently being built in New England.

First Floor

The contemporary design is based on an American archetype, the colonial New England saltbox, with an integral solar greenhouse on the south-facing side and a garage on the north.

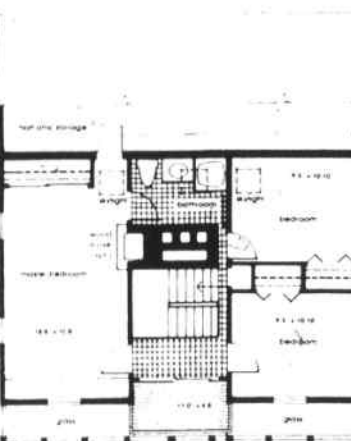

The greenhouse provides, in addition to solar heat collection, an "alternative climate", where plantings can flourish during most of the year. A second-floor greenhouse deck affords a pleasant place to sit in shirt-sleeves even during the coldest months.

In energy terms, the SUNBOX is a highly insulated, passive solar envelope house with a pair of thermal storage areas located in the attic and basement. These storage areas use low-cost, non-deteriorating materials (water and stone) and are connected by a ductspace adjacent to the masonry chimney, which itself provides useful mass.

The normal mode of heating in winter is truly passive, with warmed air from the greenhouse automatically inducing circulation through the storage areas and house by natural thermosiphoning action. Two thermostatically controlled fans move warm and cool air from storage areas in winter and summer to maintain a comfortable year-round atmosphere range in the house.

Second Floor

Adequate ventilation without undue heat loss is facilitated by an air-to-air heat exchange activated by a kitchen humidistat. Due to the use of quad-glazed windows, insulating shades are not required for satisfactory thermal performance. The Methuen SUNBOX was constructed by Bob Britton of and monitored on a daily basis for approximately one year, and then sold on the open market. The house is open for viewing on Monday, Thursday and Friday from 2 PM to 8 PM, on Saturday from 10 AM to 6 PM and on Sunday from 12 Noon to 6 PM.

The house has three bedrooms, a bath and deck on the second floor, a first floor workshop/storage room and a greenhouse which serves both energy efficiency and gardening functions. The house is rather small inside with approximately 1600 square feet of floor space. Construction costs, including a two-car garage but excluding the cost of the lot, were approximately $95,000.

The major energy efficient features of this house are a direct gain passive solar heating system, a ground source heat pump and water heating system, a high level of insulation ("superinsulation"), a ventilation and air circulation system, water-saving devices and energy efficient appliances.

Since the house is located close to the Massachusetts - New Hampshire line, the number of degree days reaches 6800, which means that houses in this region are tough to heat. Another weather factor necessary to note is that the region in which this house located receives 50% sunlight in December.

However, despite such weather difficulties, Massachusetts Electric expects that heating this house will cost 40 to 60 percent less than heating a conventional home of similar size.

My own less-than-expert observation are as follows. Number one, the house is too small. I realize that Massachusetts Electric was trying to build an energy-efficient house for under $100,000. And the only way to do that is by sacrificing space. But in so doing, this house becomes tiny.

Number two, there are tremendous possibilities with the greenhouse located on the front of the house, but I would have preferred it much bigger. Again a problem with the cost of construction forcing a reduction in floor space. Number three, do not plan on storing or doing too much in the cellar other than washing clothes. There is just no room down there.

I give Massachusetts Electric top marks for this attempt at conserving energy in housing. It has many of the current state-of-the-art solar features that will save money for the homeowner in many years to come, and hopefully it will give you My recommendation is to go some thoughts on saving energy see this house. It is not far away in your present or future home.

Where is the SUNBOX?

Directions to the New England SUNBOX: Take Rt. 93 North to Exit 22 (Route 213) (almost the last exit in Massachusetts). Take the 2nd exit (marked Howe St.), turn left at light to major intersection. Turn left again on Howe St. Drive past the Merrimack Golf Course to the Howe School. Take left fork there on Hampstead, and an immediate left on Argilla Road (Homestead Acres). The house is located over the hill on the right side of the street.

Woodchips

By ANTHONY MANCONI

It's that time again when politicians climb up my stairs, ring my doorbell, then shake my hand and tell me to vote for them because they want the opportunity to serve me and others. Some of them appear to be very sincere, but as for most of the others I have only one word — "blah!" While campaigning they are the "gung'ho" type. I meet them everywhere — at the bus stop, supermarket, and after church on Sunday mornings. I just can't "lose" them — but I have found through experience that when some of them are elected I can't "find" them.

I remember years ago a farmer had the contract to collect the town garbage. He also was our town selectman. I'd vote for him because he was available every Thursday morning in my back yard to discuss any pending town agenda. I recall that he didn't smell half as bad as some of the turkeys that I've voted for in the last twenty years.

On a cool brisk morning over the Labor Day weekend I went to the beach for my usual daily dip. I asked a man walking along the surf, "How's the water this morning?" "Lukewarm," he responded. I took his word for it — I ran into the water and dove under an in-coming wave and came up half frozen. I came out shivering and shouted to the guy, "Hey, why did you say the water was warm — it's freezing!" He shrugged his shoulders, smiled and said, "It luke-warm to me!"

Parents are people who "bear" children, "bore" teenagers, and "board" newly-weds.

My wife's advice to all who have bought a new kitchen range: "Make sure it's set 'level.' Otherwise, the food placed in it won't burn 'evenly.'"

Ernest Alvino and Peter Giampoli of Wakefield on trumpets, John Nowak of Winchester on piano, Wayne Higden on saxophone and Dan Holland on drums were members of a band known as "Joe Elastic and his Rubber Band." They played "snappy tunes" that made everybody "spring up," "stretch" their legs and dance.

Dan McLaughlin was the singer whose Irish songs still bring tears to everyone's eyes. Almost everyone in Woburn has heard Danny sing "The Wild Colonial Boy."

A "bulldozer" is one who sleeps during a political speech.

I asked my office boy why he was two hours late. "I fell down a whole flight of stairs coming to work this morning," I looked at him and asked, "And what took you two hours?"

Have you noticed the influx of animals that were hardly ever seen in the inner city or town? We have more squirrels than ever in my back yard, a friendly raccoon, many obnoxious skunks and a woodchuck. We were talking about the situation one day when my nephew, Dennis Tully, said that someone told him that a man was killed by a weasel years ago in Woburn. Dennis said that the man was crossing the railroad tracks and got hit by a train when he didn't hear the "weasel."

For 22 years my wife and I were very happy — then we met each other. She woke me up last night and told me she thought she heard burglars in the kitchen downstairs. She said, "I think they're eating the biscuits I baked this morning." I told her, "What do I care, as long as they don't die in the house!"

Most of you have seen how a magnet attracts an iron nail. Well, some people are like that. They have magnetic personalities that bring people toward them. They have that certain warmth that seems to say, "Welcome, friend, I'm happy to see you." That invisible but powerful force in a person is called "charisma." Some have it and others, unfortunately, don't. MDC Police Capt. Joseph Carli certainly has it, and so do the following: Sgt. Al Avola, officers Al Pierce and Bob Giguere of Woburn; Johnny Flynn, Gayle MacEachern and coach William Colella of Winchester; mailmen Tom Mooney, Harry LeClair and Charlie Mullen of Woburn; Suzy Arlen of Tewksbury; Fred Neilson of Wilmington; Kenny and Terrie Kirkland of Burlington; Tony Angelucci of Russell Farms, Woburn; Sandy of Pine-wood Gardens, North Reading; Mary Jane Seaberg of Stoneham; Ruth Harrington and her mother Florence Munn of Reading; Cathy Pucini and Betty Spahl of Wilmington; and Richard Rebidue and Howie Murphy of Lynnfield.

My Aunt Maria of Wilmington has never been noted for her diplomacy. After a long-winded sermon, she turned to me and said, "This sermon is like water to a drowning man." For once she was right.

There are statues everywhere in Washington D.C., our nation's capitol. I saw one of Napoleon, who I am sure was never a politician because he had his hands in his "own" pockets.

One of Frank Perdue's hired hands was found dead in one of the hen houses. The police suspect "fowl" play.

One robin does not a summer make — but one lark can be responsible for a "fall."

Brother, you know you're getting old when the gleam in your eye is a reflection off your bifocals; your knees buckle but your belt won't; you sit in a rocking chair but can't get it going; you're 17 around the neck, 44 around the waist, and 96 around the golf course.

The best friend a man has in the world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter, who he has reared with loving care, may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us — those whom we trust with our happiness and good name — may become traitors to that faith. The one absolutely unselfish friend that man can have in this selfish world, the one that will never prove ungrateful or treacherous is his dog.

Ode to a Weatherman

Don't tell me about your high or low,
Don't tell me how the winds will blow.
Look at your maps — then let me know,
Will it rain today — just a "yes" or "no."

Stop smoking at Regional Health Center

The American Lung Association 20-day self-help plan to quit smoking will be offered at the Regional Health Center in Wilmington this summer.

Richard Silveria, community health educator, will offer the program on Monday evenings September 10 through October 15 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in a supportive group environment. The course includes lectures, group discussions, films, brochures and two booklets from the American Lung Association.

The success rate of the program depends upon one's personal commitment to quitting and assuming responsibility for one's own health.

Homework is essential to success—minimal reading and written exercises are required during the 20-day period.

Mr. Silveria graduated with honors from the University of Lowell with a B.S. in Health Education. He is a trained stop smoking facilitator by the American Lung Association and the American Cancer Society.

Pre-registration is required by calling 657-3910, ext. 567.

The Regional Health Center in Wilmington is a division of Choate-Symmes Health Services.

Windsor Mills Restaurant starts complete renovation

This summer, the Windsor Mills Restaurant has embarked on a complete renovation and redecoration of its function facility in preparation for its 25th anniversary. Located on Route 110 in Dracut (from 93, take exit 20, 3 miles west on 110) the Windsor Mills Restaurant has built a reputation over the years as the Merrimack Valley's famous dining and function facility.

To make this newly refurbished area distinctive, Interior Designer Ralph Knoettner of Bedford, N.H. has been engaged by Windsor Mills. Knoettner, an art major and mural painter, specialized in the interior design and decoration of restaurants; among his area credits are Jimmy's Allenhurst in Danvers, the Greenridge Turkey Farm in Nashua, N.H., and the Lord Jeffrey Inn in Amherst.

Knoettner's plans for the function rooms are exciting. All will get a total revamping, including new carpeting, attractive wall coverings, and mirrored paneling. To further enhance the rooms, a completely new lighting system will be installed, including beautiful new chandeliers.

The new plans have not forgotten the foyer area. Its enlarged space will make arrivals and coat-checking even easier and more convenient than before.

The Windsor Mills' function rooms can accommodate from 10 to 1,000 people, and, when finished, will retain their past traditional flavor with an updated, more formal look perfect for every occasion.

While the renovation is being done, the rooms are still available for functions. The project is scheduled for completion in late fall.

"Our new rooms will give people in the Merrimack Valley an unrivaled function facility," said John Maraganis, Banquet Manager.

Bloodmobile in Woburn

Give your blood! The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Forest Park Road, Woburn, on Tuesday, September 25th from 1:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. Blood of all types is urgently needed throughout the whole Boston Metropolitan area. Daily emergency calls for blood are being broadcast by local radio and TV stations. Blood is needed to preserve and save lives of many persons now hospitalized. Blood is also needed by those who require surgery but are now denied. Anyone between the ages 17 (with parental consent) and 66, who is in good health and weighs over 110 pounds, can give blood. A donor can give blood every 56 days. The individual can designate his blood for any person, group or organization of his choice. The American Red Cross Blood Services of Massachusetts guarantees the donor and his family all blood and/or blood derivatives needed for a full year.

CAFE STYLE EATERIES are just one of the popular attractions of Boston's Newbury Street, the site of numerous shops and restaurants located just west of the Boston Public Gardens. The busy area was seen on a recent summer day. (KAP photo)

Contact the Church Office, 933-4600, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., Monday through Friday for an appointment. If you are unable to make an appointment, come and give blood anyway — the life you save may be your own. Child care will be provided for donors with small children. Limited transportation will be available for those without automobiles. Come to the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on September 25th. Give your Blood!

You'll never own a better value.

Visit Sheffield Heights. And marvel at the quality construction of the two bedroom townhomes of up to 2300 sq. ft. From the energy-saving features and plumbing to the insulated windows, doors and heavy exterior walls. From the custom amenities and designer lighting to the European style kitchen cabinets and oversized closets. Maintenance free craftsmanship that will become one of the best investments you'll ever make.

All this and more - in a spacious, air Claude Miquelle design starts at $115,900 (much less than you'd pay for comparable homes). But call (617) 233-5689 or stop by and visit our three designer models now. Because less than 30% of Sheffield Heights remains and present construction is among the finest and the best views available.

Sheffield Heights
Live the affordable dream.

As a nationally recognized leader in the electronic imaging field, EIKONIX is faced with the challenges presented by a wide range of government and commercial users. Our growth has created several immediate openings for experienced individuals who are able to work with minimal direction.

GENERAL CLERK

Well-organized, dependable individual with at least 1 year's general office experience needed to work in a busy office environment. Duties include typing, filing, copy/distribution and office supplies. Switchboard experience required.

SECRETARY

We are seeking an experienced, well-organized individual to perform diversified secretarial duties for a busy marketing sales department. Word processing experience a must. Secretarial school graduate with excellent skills and at least 1 experience required.

STOCK ROOM CLERK

You will be responsible for maintaining stock room, disbursing stock, filing requisitions and kit raw materials for production. You should be familiar with stockroom records and inventory control. Shipping and receiving experience desired. 2-3 years' stockroom experience required.

MAINTENANCE

You should be a mechanically-inclined individual who understands electricity, plumbing and HVAC. The ability to solve large and small maintenance situations with a minimum of supervision required. Clean driver's record is required as you will be driving a 1/4 ton pick-up or van. Cleaning and yard work will also be required.

Q.C. INCOMING INSPECTOR

Ability to read blueprints and drawings of electronic and machined parts; including electro-mechanical assemblies. Must have knowledge of documentation procedures, configurations and revision level controls. Must have minimum of 3 years' experience in the inspection of incoming material using precision hand tools and gauges. Any experience at inspection of soldering, component assembly or wiring practices is a plus.

EIKONIX offers all the rewards that are part of a smaller, more personal atmosphere. You'll find competitive salaries and a liberal benefits package including company-paid health/dental/life insurance and educational assistance.

Send your resume or a detailed letter describing your background to the Employment Manager. We will respond quickly. EIKONIX Corporation, 23 Crosby Drive, Bedford, MA 01730. We are an equal opportunity employer, M/F. U.S. Citizenship required.

Dance Lightly, Walk Softly

Star Ball Championships

The 9th Annual New England Star Ball Championships will be held on Saturday and Sunday September 29th and 30th in the Park Plaza Hotel's Imperial Ballroom. This Ballroom Dance Championship attracts the top competitors from all over the United States, Canada and Europe. Professionals compete for Star Ball Championship Titles and $10,000 prize money while Amateurs strive for the Championship titles and scholarship awards.

Pro/Am competition begins at 9 AM on Saturday and ends at 5 PM. Professional and amateur couples compete on Saturday evening (9 PM to 1 AM) and on Sunday (12 noon to 5 PM). Intervals of general dancing for spectators will be interspersed throughout the day and evening events.

Tickets are available at Boston Ballroom located at Longwood Towers, 20 Chapel St., Brookline, 02146.

For further information, call Karen Keefe at 277-5758.

Be there in the early morning. The brilliant colors and crisp air of a New England autumn can be enjoyed during an early morning stroll and throughout the day at Old Sturbridge Village in Sturbridge. Columbus Day Weekend, October 6, 7, and 8.

The Village will open at 8 AM each day during the long weekend. Early risers can walk the unpaved paths and historic landscapes of the Center Village, which represents the residential heart of an 1830s Massachusetts town, past the rugged hills surrounding the Freeman farm, across a covered bridge, and through the mill neighborhood, with its waterpowered gristmill, sawmill, and wool carding mill.

The early hours of Columbus Day Weekend are an ideal time for visitors to take unhurried photographs of the landscape, foliage, and farmers doing early morning chores, or to enjoy a buffet-style continental breakfast at the Bullard Tavern on the Common.

Old Sturbridge Village is a living history museum that re-creates a New England town of the 1830s. The museum covers over 200 acres, with more than 40 restored buildings where people in historical dress demonstrate the life, work, and community celebrations of early 19th-century New Englanders.

The Village is located on Route 20 west in Stockbridge, near Exit 9 of the Massachusetts Turnpike. For further information, call 347-3362.

Foliage Hotline established

Catch the "Spirit of Massachusetts" this fall. Get out and see one of the state's most spectacular shows: fall foliage. From late September through the month of October, leaves across Massachusetts will turn brilliant hues of red, yellow and orange. Starting September 15, tips on where and when to view the annual fall show during its peak will be available by calling 1-800-632-8038 in Massachusetts, or 1-800-343-9072, out of state.

The best time for foliage viewing in the Berkshire Hills is usually the first two weeks of October. In Eastern Massachusetts, foliage usually crests in mid-October. The foliage cycle takes about three weeks and peak colors last for three or four days.

Weekends and Columbus Day bring the greatest number of foliage viewers to Massch-setts. To avoid heavy traffic, travel on weekdays, or take the back roads and country lanes on weekends. There are sightseeing buses out of Boston (536-4100) and the Mystic Valley Railroad runs a train from Boston west to Pittsfield with many stops in-between, for those who prefer not to drive (361-4445).

North of Boston, a very attractive spot to take in foliage watching is the 2500 acre Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary.

For a free Spirit of Massachusetts Vacation kit, including a Fall Calendar of Events and a Transportation map, contact: Spirit of Massachusetts, 100 Cambridge St. 13th Floor, Boston, 02202 or call 727-3201.

Shriners Rodeo gallops into Wilmington

Relive the thrill of the Wild West at the Sixth Annual Shriners Championship Rodeo, October 11 to 14 at the Shriners Auditorium, Exit 13 off I-93, Wilmington. Grand Opening Night at the Rodeo will feature many radio and television personalities in the Grand Parade.

Showtimes are Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at 7:30 PM; special show for school children and senior citizens, Friday at 10 AM; Saturday and Sunday matinees at 1:30 PM. Tickets are available at the Shriners Auditorium box office or call 665-6466 or 657-4202.

Rodeo or railroad, 19th-century walking to ballroom dancing, COMING ATTRACTIONS has it all. But if you feel our smugness is more boast than real and you know of an event of interest to all that has been left behind, write, care of this local newspaper, and clue us in. Don't worry, no matter how obscure or eccentric your event may seem, we're interested.

Excitement builds for Ray Charles Concert

Five Raellettes and costumes; seventeen orchestra members and instruments; tons of equipment and music — all of this will arrive with Ray Charles aboard his private plane on Sunday, Sept. 23 to open the second dazzling season of the Collins Center.

After landing at Manchester Airport, the entourage will travel to Andover by chartered bus and arrive in time for the first performance at 4 p.m.

Following the "load-in" at the stage entrance, Charles will go immediately to his special "Star" dressing room. Awaiting him will be his favorite fruit, grapes and watermelon, along with soft drinks.

Thirty-five minutes after his arrival Charles and his group will be ready for a "sound check," and then prepare for the first performance.

For this opening show of the second season, the Collins Center has brought in a special nine-foot concert grand piano and a B-3 Hammond electric organ and speaker for Charles' use.

The Ray Charles show will be preceded by the Comedy/Mime team of Stromberg and Cooper, veteran entertainers of the college circuit, these two versatile performers combine comedy, pathos, mime, and audience participation in their unique show.

Tickets for the 7 p.m. show are almost sold out. Good seats at $17 orchestra and $14 mezzanine still remain for the 4 p.m. show. However, the ticket demand has increased in these final two weeks. So if you want to attend act now.

The month of October will bring three performances at the Center starting with the Tony Award Winning musical "Ain't MisBehavin'" on Tuesday, Oct. 16. Tickets are selling at a brisk pace for this Fats Waller musical with three of the original Broadway cast members. Sponsored by WSSH, 99.5 FM "Ain't MisBehavin'" is the first of two Broadway shows being presented this year. "Oliver" will be featured in March.

Friday, Oct. 19 is the date of Les Ballet Jazz de Montreal, the spectacular dance company from Canada.

The Classical Ruby series will open Thursday, Oct. 25 with a guest appearance by the renowned piano virtuoso Peter Serkin and the Springfield Symphony Orchestra. Still in his mid 30's Mr. Serkin has achieved international acclaim as a feature guest artist.

Two shows due here at the Collins Center later this year opened recently to positive audience responses. The Negro Ensemble's production of "A Soldier's Play" is concluding its run at Boston's Colonial Theatre and Shakespeare and Company's "Midsummer Night's dream" is continuing in New York.

A "Midsummer Night's Dream" will be at the Center Saturday, Nov. 3 and "A Soldier's Play" will open Tuesday, Feb. 26. Both of these presentations are being offered at ticket prices far below Boston and New York, and ticket demand continues to be good.
